Every now and then I learn of someone on the blog who has a PhD or is ABD in one of the related fields, such as New Testament, Early Christian Studies, Hebrew Bible, Early Judaism, Rabbinics, Roman Religion, Greek Religion, Ancient (Greek or Roman) History, Semitic Philology, etc. etc., and/or is teaching in one of those fields in a college or university.

Are you one of them? If so, please send me an email, at behrman@email.unc.edu. I’m interested in knowing what your research is and/or has been, and I don’t know how else to contact you, other than this!

Randy Alcorn Explains His Review In Light of Readers’ Comments