

OK, this will not be a high demand item. But I have five copies of my book Triumph of Christianity in Korean translation. I don't read Korean. Does any of you? Want one? I'm happy to mail one to you, but only if you're willing to help cover the cost of mailing by making a donation to the blog. Make the donation as large as you'd like! Hey, what are we worth? But for domestic mailing, let's say a minimum of $10; international, $25.

If you're interested, don't reply here, but zap me a message at behrman@email.unc.edu. If you don't read Korean, there's no time like the present!
